PEACE SEEMS REMOTE

TWO MAIN FEATURES OF JAPAN'S TERMS ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE TO RUSSIA.

M. WITTE'S REPLY IS READY

PLENIPOTENTIARIES ARE PESSIMISTIC OVER OUTCOME OF NEGOTIATIONS.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 12.—Russia's reply to the Japanese terms of peace will be delivered by M. Witte to Baron Komura during the day. The reply is written, there being two texts, one in French, the other in English. Upon the two crucial points, indemnity and the cession of the island of Sakhalin, the reply is an absolute non-possimus. Other points are accepted as bases for discussion while still others are accepted conditionally. The reply is rather long, because in enumerating the conditions upon which discussion is admitted and those upon which consideration is declined, reasons and arguments are given. The Japanese plenipotentiaries are expected to ask for immediate adjournment to examine and prepare their reply. M. Witte will probably intimate as much expedition as they (the Russians) have shown in the preparation of their response is expected of the Japanese envoys. Monday, therefore, is expected to be the day on which the real discussion will begin. Neither side wants to indulge in diplomatic sparring. The time for fencing is over and less than a week must decide whether a basis of peace is possible.

Jap Tactics Inscrutable.

The tactics of the Japanese are inscrutable. They have shown throughout the war their ability to guard their secrets, military, naval and diplomatic, and now not the remotest clue comes from behind their closed doors as to whether they are prepared to make substantial concessions. Silence and secrecy are their watchwords. But if the conditions as submitted constitute their last word, hope of peace may be regarded as having disappeared if the feeling reflected in Russian circles is a true criterion. And that no substantial concessions on the main issues will be made is the belief in both Russian and Japanese circles.

In the inner camps of both plenipotentiaries the deepest pessimism reigns. M. Witte, it is positively known, believes the prospects of an agreement are so remote as to be practically nil. He has no desire to prolong the agony and instead of fencing when the plenipotentiaries come together after the Japanese have had the opportunity to examine the reply there is strong reason to believe he will not only welcome but will insist upon an immediate discussion of all the proposed bases. So pessimistic is he that he has already been talking to his colleagues of his plans when the rupture comes. Before sailing for home he contemplates a brief visit to Chicago.

Terms Will Not Be Modified.

That the Japanese terms, insofar as they touch the main points, will not be withdrawn or materially modified is the opinion of the most competent Japanese authority on the ground who will talk for publication, namely, Mr. Julio Kumpel Matsumoto, a member of the Japanese parliament, who is here as a financial emissary of Japan and who is in close communication with Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira. The reasons he assigns are extremely interesting.

"The conditions in their broad outlines," said he, "have been substantially known to us in Japan and the Russians will be very much mistaken if they imagine the Japanese will not insist upon the two chief points—the indemnity and the cession of Sakhalin. To surrender either is impossible. If Baron Komura should yield on these points public feeling in Japan would be so strong that he would be murdered upon his return to Japan. We must be reimbursed for the cost of the war and we have national claims to Sakhalin which we have never forgotten."

The question of the credentials has been amicably adjusted upon the assurance of the Japanese that the powers granted Baron Komura were in the regular form always employed by Japan. M. Witte will not pursue the matter further. It is believed that his object in presenting his note on the subject was that it might go into the record of the conference to show that the widely published intimations from Japanese sources that the powers granted him would not be full and ample were not only without foundation but that his powers were in fact greater than those bestowed upon Baron Komura.

TAKE LIFE UNCOMFORTABLE.

Mosquitoes and Heat Bother Peace Plenipotentiaries.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 12.—Millions of mosquitoes and intolerable heat confront the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan and their suites. Throughout the entire day there has been no relief from the heat and humidity. Just at dark a listless, warm rain set in. Its only effect was to drive swarms of mosquitoes into the hotel, and the guests had either to bar themselves in their rooms or walk, stamp and beat the mosquitoes off.

No one has felt the heat more than has M. Witte. He is a heavy man of large stature, and not accustomed to extreme climatic conditions of summer. He worked in his rooms throughout the day in negligee costume and every moment he was drenched with perspiration. When the final revision of the French and English texts of the Russian reply to the Japanese terms had been concluded shortly after 4 o'clock he and Baron Rosen entered their automobile and were off for a spin of nearly two hours along the shore roads. This was the only recreation for the Russians, and the Japanese plenipotentiaries did not indulge themselves even to the extent of a drive.

Throughout the evening the rain continued, but without the usual refreshing effect of a summer shower.

REASONABLE AND LEGITIMATE.

Opinion of British Press on Japan's Peace Terms.

London, Aug. 12.—"Reasonable and legitimate" is generally the verdict of the London newspapers on the Japanese peace terms.

The press in a chorus urges Russia to accept the terms and avoid further bloodshed and ensure a lasting peace.

All the newspapers argue entirely from a Japanese standpoint, but it is generally conceded that the fact that the negotiations are now almost certain to continue in itself a long step toward peace. The more conservative papers hold that the terms afford a chance for bargaining and suggest that it is not improbable that Japan finally will yield on the questions of fishing rights, interned ships and other minor points. On the main questions of reimbursement and the cession of Sakhalin, there is no division of opinion. The Daily Telegraph says: "There is both an ancient and a modern precedent on the side of Japan. Our allies mean what they say, they meant what they said prior to the war. Is there going to be a repetition of the blunder of thinking that Japan's irreducible minimum is reducible?"

RUSSIANS SURRENDER.

Over One Hundred Taken Prisoners by the Japs.

Tokio, Aug. 12.—Admiral Kataoka reports that he dispatched a force to co-operate with the army in attacking a Russian force which was holding the southeastern coast light twenty miles east of Korsakoff. The naval force, four armed boats, attacked the Russians on the morning of Aug. 10, the army making simultaneous attacks from the eastward. After a bombardment lasting two hours, the Russians surrendered. The prisoners number 125.

SITUATION IS ALARMING.

Starving Laborers Threaten to Destroy Property in Spain.

Madrid, Aug. 12.—The situation in the provinces arising from the semi-starving condition of many farming communities is becoming alarming.

Dispatches from Malaga report that 3,600 laborers are overrunning that district and threatening property. In the communes of Juguera, Alozaina and Pizarra the authorities are powerless to cope with the rioters.

The agricultural population around Cadiz is increasingly turbulent, and begging is the only means of livelihood in the province of Seville.

Reports have been received of serious outbreaks in Osuna and Carmona, where 4,000 laborers attacked the farms, carried off cattle and supplied themselves with food.

OVER REMAINS OF JONES.

Last Rites Will Be Held Some Time Next Spring.

Washington, Aug. 12.—After a consultation with the president, Secretary Bonaparte announces that the formal exercises accompanying the interment of the body of John Paul Jones in the United States will be held next spring at which time, it is understood, a French squadron will be sent to this country to participate in the ceremonies.

Ruhlin Knocks Out McCormick.

Colma, Cal., Aug. 12.—About 2,200 sporting enthusiasts came to Colma Friday night to witness the scheduled twenty-five-round go between the two big fellows, Gus Ruhlin, the Akron giant, and Jimmie McCormick. McCormick was knocked out in the eighteenth round of one of the poorest contests ever witnessed in this ring.

SPEAKS TO FILIPINOS

SECRETARY TAFT OUTLINES THE POLICY OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION.

IF NO INSURRECTION EXISTS

POPULAR ASSEMBLY WILL BE FORMED IN THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS IN 1907.

Manila, Aug. 12.—A banquet given by natives to the Taft party Friday night attracted great interest, as it was expected that Secretary Taft would outline the policy of the present administration. For some time past the feeling among the natives has been that the administration was deviating from the McKinley policy and as a result there has been a noticeable dissatisfaction among politicians with the insular government and also much unrest.

This attitude was met fearlessly by Secretary Taft, who upheld the administration policy. When he finished his address he was loudly applauded. He said in part, in response to the toast "The Present Administration in the Philippines:"

"On my part it is due you that if I do nothing else tonight I should make clear the views of the administration upon the present and future of the islands."

Secretary Taft said the American people are divided into three parties over the question he was to discuss. The first party favored extending the influence of America by purchase and conquest in the Orient. The second party, by far the largest, which regards the acquisition of the Philippines as an unavoidable burden, believes the United States must prepare the Filipinos to maintain a stable government and then grant them independence. The third party favored giving the Filipinos immediate independence. Secretary Taft then said:

"The second party has for its chief exponent President Roosevelt. He believes that it is the duty of the United States to prepare the Filipinos for self-government. This will require a generation and probably longer and the form of self-government will be left to the individuals who will control the two nations at that time. It follows that the president—and he himself desires me to say this to the Filipinos—feels charged with the duty of proceeding on his policy and maintaining the sovereignty of the United States here as an instrument of the gradual education and elevation of the whole of the Filipino people to a self-governing community."

The secretary affirmed that a popular assembly would be formed, if no insurrection exists, in April, 1907.

GREETED AFFECTIONATELY.

Large Crowds Turn Out to See President Roosevelt.

Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 12.—President Roosevelt on his return trip from Chautauqua to his Oyster Bay home, passed through three great states, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. At every station where a stop was made he was accorded a greeting as affectionate as it was enthusiastic. Along the entire route in the afternoon and evening rain fell heavily, but the storm seemed to have little effect on the determination of the people to see the president and if possible to hear him speak. During the afternoon President Roosevelt made brief addresses from the rear of his car at Salamanca, Hortonville, Elmira and Waverly. His speech at Salamanca was simply a complimentary address to the people of a city of which he is very fond and an appeal to the people to conduct themselves always with honesty and decency in private life and relations with a view thereby of bettering the government of the state and of the country. At Harnellsville the president touched effectively upon the horrors of the yellow fever epidemic now raging in New Orleans.

Every station on the line of the Erie railroad from Harnellsville to this point was thronged with people. At one or two places where the train slowed down but did not stop, the president waved his hands to the crowds which broke into cheers as the special passed. At Elmira where a convention of volunteer firemen is being held the president addressed his brief remarks particularly to them.

A pilot locomotive was run ahead of the train over the entire route and another locomotive followed the special at a distance of a few miles to be ready in case of emergency.

In his speech at Chautauqua the president discussed the Monroe doctrine as a feature of our foreign policy and the federal supervision of corporations as a feature of our domestic policy.

PARADE OF NUDES PREVENTED.

Religious Fanatics Intended to March Through Town Naked.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 12.—A party of Doukhor religious fanatics, to the number of thirty, Friday marched to within half a mile of Yorkton, where they proceeded to strip themselves naked and burned their clothing.

The police were notified and went out with drays and blankets and arrested the entire party of men, women and children.

Their intention was to march through the streets of Yorkton in a naked condition. They refused all nourishment but raw potatoes, and say they are looking for Christ.

WORK OF TEXAS MOB

NEGRO ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTED ASSAULT IS BURNED AT THE STAKE.

Sulphur Springs, Tex., Aug. 12.—Tom Williams, a mulatto, about 6 o'clock a. m. made an attempt to assault a young white girl in a pasture near this town. Three hours later he was a blazing mass in the public square at Sulphur Springs. The whole proceedings were as orderly as such proceedings ever are. There was no excitement, and the lynching was participated in by several hundred people. In less than four hours after the attempt the tragedy had ended and the town had returned to its accustomed vocations and the incident was over.

On a farm about two miles southwest of town Mary Childs lives with her mother and sisters. About 6 a. m. she started as usual to the pasture to drive up the cows to the milking lot. She had found the cows and was returning with them when Williams accosted her. He took hold of the girl and the latter, realizing her predicament, told the negro he had better release her as her sisters were nearby. This evidently frightened the negro and the girl then set up a scream and he loosened his hold on her and ran off as fast as he could. The girl made her way home and told what had happened.

Officers and a posse started after the negro and he was soon caught about a mile and a half east of the town. He was taken to the scene of the attempted assault and was fully identified by his intended victim, who told in detail of her experience with him. A mob quickly assembled and took the negro to the public square. Here he was tied to a stake and completely saturated with oil. A match was applied to the feet and a blaze shot high into the air. The mob stood and watched the flames devour the negro. After the oil had burned itself out the body was cut down. More oil was poured on the corpse, and the blaze started afresh until the body was almost entirely incinerated. Then the mob dispersed and in half an hour no sign remained of the gruesome tragedy that had been enacted.

London, Aug. 12.—Parliament was prorogued during the day after a checkered session which will long be remembered for the unprecedented number of votes of censure and motions for adjournment moved with a view to the embarrassment of the government.

Not more than fifty members of the house of commons assisted at the closing scene. The black rod summoned them to the house of lords, where there were only two peers besides the three royal commissioners.

SURGEON WHITE NOT SURPRISED AT INCREASE IN NUMBER OF NEW CASES.

EXPECTS BIG QUOTA DAILY

ONE FEDERAL FEVER FIGHTER IS A VICTIM OF THE DISEASE AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, Aug. 12.—With Surgeon White of the marine hospital service so frankly expressing no surprise at the increase in the number of new cases of yellow fever and expecting that for some time to come there will be a large quota brought to light daily, the people of New Orleans have made up their minds to await in patience the results of the federal campaign, which is now fairly in swing. The life of a stegomyia mosquito has not been definitely ascertained, but the fever had made so much headway when it was discovered and it has prevailed so generally in the lower sections of the city since then, that there are doubtless many of the insects that have escaped the disinfecting crusade launched against them, and they may be expected to transmit the disease for some days longer at least. It is considered to have been demonstrated that some of the physicians have heretofore neglected to report cases and this has made it difficult for the health authorities to Maintain a Complete Record of all the cases in existence. The campaign of education and persuasion however, is beginning to tell, and Dr. White begins to see light ahead from the apparent willingness of the physicians to co-operate with him to the extent of making known the sickness that appears in their private practice.

Up to noon Friday a dozen cases of fever had been officially reported and the fact that none of these were cases turned up by the official inspectors, but cases submitted by the doctors themselves, was taken as an encouraging sign. Dr. White is much pleased with the improvement in the situation. He was able Friday to make his first public announcement of his detailed organization. It took the shape of an assignment of his assistants to each of the seventeen wards of the city. There are two medical inspectors assigned to each of the larger wards and one to each of the smaller wards. Each headquarters is located in the central section of the ward and the officers in charge will personally employ the men whom they need to assist them in the campaign. Nearly all of Dr. White's staff has now reached here.

Federal Surgeon Stricken.

An unexpected blow was struck at the marine hospital staff Friday when one of the men sent here to assist in the fight against the disease was himself stricken. The victim is Surgeon G. M. Berry. Dr. Berry is a Texan by nativity, but has lately been stationed in New York. He was one of the first to reach New Orleans, and because he has been through the Cuban campaign and had had the fever in Texas, he was considered to be immune and was put in charge of the work in the originally infected area, where the fever has raged most of the time. Dr. Berry had been doing yeoman service in the matter of disinfection. He was taken ill Thursday and Friday his case developed into one of yellow fever. In order that he might have the best of treatment he was removed late in the day to the Touro infirmary, where special yellow fever wards have been provided and where he is expected speedily to recover.

A force of one hundred men were engaged Friday in the work of disinfecting in the lower section of the city. The district runs from St. Ann to Esplanade and from Rampart to the river.

Something of an Improvement.

Friday's record is something of an improvement over that of Thursday, both as to the new cases and new points of infection and is taken as an encouraging sign. A large majority of the subjects are above Canal street. The proportion of Italians is much larger than on Thursday.

The official yellow fever report up to 6 p. m. Friday is as follows: New cases, 61; total to date, 808; deaths, 9; total to date, 133; new sub-fet, 12; total to date, 163.

At Patterson, where there are now some thirty cases, some distress exists among the poorer classes in the infected areas and financial assistance is needed.

Governor Blanchard Friday placed $20,000 at the disposal of Chairman Janvier of the citizens' committee.

The state's contribution of $100,000 to aid in stamping out the fever will be disbursed as occasion requires.

In the presence of a congregation of mourners that partly filled the cathedral and with some fifty priests participating in the services, mass was said Friday for Archbishop Chapelle. The interment in the crypt of the cathedral followed. Archbishop Chapelle was the second head of the diocese to succumb to the disease.

Bishop Newware, the fourth bishop of the diocese, died of the disease in 1832.

JOINT COMMITTEES TO CONSIDER PLANS

President Con O'Brien, of Commercial Club, Announces Appointment of Committee

ON WATER WORKS MATTER
Committee Will Consider Jointly the Ordinance Drawn Up by Ambrose Tighe

The city council went into executive session last Monday evening when the proposition of President Ambrose Tighe, of the Minnesota Water Works company, looking to the settlement of the question of the disposition of the water works plant in this city, was taken up and the public has been kept in ignorance of the contents of this proposition. The same is said to be in the form of an ordinance which covers thirty or more pages of typewritten matter.

The members of the Commercial Club on Tuesday evening also considered this matter and it was finally decided to appoint a committee of five to confer with a similar committee from the city council, President O'Brien being instructed to name such a committee.

Mr. O'Brien today announced the appointment of the following gentlemen on this committee: J. M. Elder, G. D. LaBar, M. E. Ryan, Dr. Werner Hemstead and W. D. McKay.

It is expected that something will be done in this matter at once and that the question will be settled to the satisfaction of both the city and the Minnesota Water Works company.

The first bottle gave her relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and is now in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. At H. P. TRouble Over WARDEN

Old Deputy Warden at Aitkin Up in Arms
Over Fact He Was Not Reappointed to Position

Some time last spring Arthur Kempton, deputy game warden of Aitkin county, was removed from office, it being said at that time that the appropriation for deputies had been exhausted. He was promised, it is said, that he would be reappointed when the proper time came. Recently the members of the gun club decided that something should be done towards getting a game warden as game was being slaughtered in large quantities. The members of this club petitioned the governor with the result that the governor has just appointed Ab Bonness to the position instead of Kempton. Kempton and his friends are up in arms over the affair.

MADE EXCELLENT SHOWING

Fire Department Made a Good Run Last Night and Scaled Top of the Imperial Block on Laurel

Chief Bennett had the members of the Brainerd fire department out again last night and the boys made an unusually good showing. They did not know where they were to run to until the alarm was turned in from the Imperial block. They made a good run and with the assistance of the hook and ladder outfit scaled the top of the big block with ease and with a rapidity that would do credit to departments in cities twice the size of Brainerd.

The chief announces that next week the same run will be made and he is anxious to have the public generally and especially the members of the city council see the work that is being done. He will give the council a special invitation to be present.

EDITORS OF THE DISPATCH:

THE POEM.

I stood upon the ocean's sandy beach,
And with a reed I wrote upon the sand
these words,

"Agnes, I love thee!"
But the winds came and the waves rolled mountains high,
And blotted out the fair impression.

Cruel waves, treacherous sand, fragile reed;
No longer will I trust to thee.
But from the highest mountain peak
I'll pluck the tallest pine,
And, dipped in the crater of Vesuvius,
with it I will write
Upon the high and burnished heavens
these words:

"The Paraders" is drawing the largest audiences ever known,
And giving an entertainment that will take your breath away.
And I would like to see any dog-gone wave wash that out.

Hundreds of thousands of people use Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea as a family tonic. If taken this month it will keep the family well all the year. If it fails get your money back. 35c. H. P. Dunn & Co.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"ON THE BRIDGE AT MIDNIGHT"

Though famous for its scenery, "On the Bridge at Midnight," Kliment and Gazzolo's comedy-drama which is due here next Tuesday night, Aug. 15, is not a sensational play. Its merit is substantial, being a combination of absorbing story and a scenic achievement of merit. The mechanical triumph, which gives the play its name, the bridge scene, is after all only an incident in the story of a blind mother's devotion and a long search for her lost child. Her pathetic quest led her, in the city of Chicago, to the river at the point where Chicago's engineering triumph, the huge jackknife bridge, lifts and closes its huge valves every day to let steamers pass. This operation has been most faithfully imitated as well as the structure itself, yet after all the scene is merely an embellishment of the dramatic narration of the sightless mother's search. The great valves rise and fall as they do in the original, and a steamer passes through in full view of the audience but presently these incidents are absorbed into the progress of the story. While the main thread is of sorrow there is plenty of comedy of the wholesome sort, two characters in particular supplying it—Germany and Reddy—and these are in the hands of two clever actors. Sunshine and shadow follow each other through all the scenes. Messrs. Kliment and Gazzolo are presenting "On the Bridge at Midnight" with a good company this season. Seat sale Monday morning at 10 o'clock at H. P. Dunn & Co.'s. Prices 75, 50 and 25 cents.

"UNCLE JOSH PERKINS"

"Uncle Josh Perkins" is the title of a play that has scored a success this season. It is to be given here by the original company. It will be produced here next Wednesday, Aug. 16, at the Brainerd opera house. Uncle Josh Perkins is a comedy drama; there is a touch of tragic nature in it that excites the emotions of the spectators but all ends happily. The play is also livened up by the comedy and when the spectators are not in tears over the misfortune of the young heroine and the shadows that appear to threaten her future, they are laughing and applauding at the funny antics of the comedians. Some new songs and specialties are also introduced at appropriate stages of the play, new scenery is used for the impressive stage pictures presented in each of the four acts of the piece. Prices 75, 50 and 25c.

PRISONER WAS DISCHARGED

Attorney F. E. Ebner, Aitkin, Secures Release of Prisoner on Writ of Habeas Corpus

Attorney F. E. Ebner, of Aitkin, who was in the city yesterday, has secured the release of Joseph Z. Chapman, who was being held in the Aitkin county jail, on a writ of habeas corpus secured from Judge McClenahan in chambers.

It seems that Chapman lived in a Finnish settlement in Aitkin county and is chairman of the town board. The people of that vicinity, with whom Chapman is said to have had considerable trouble, had him arrested on a warrant charging him with a breach of the peace. Instead of placing him under bonds to keep the peace they took him before a justice and he was held to the grand jury. He did not furnish bonds and was taken to the county jail. The people claim that Chapman threatened to shoot them if they did not dance to his music in reference to some road matters in that vicinity.

FALL TRADE STILL EXPANDING.

Improvement Noted in All Sections of the Country.

New York, Aug. 12.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says fall trade, stimulated by excellent crop advices, continues to expand at wholesale. Increased purchases, a wider range of selection and some improvement in collections are noted East, West and Southwest. Lines noting special activity at the West are dry goods, notions, hardware, lumber, groceries and shoes. One-half of the 1905 wool crop has been sold, worsted manufacturers reported orders booked for six months, the shoe and leather trades are doing an increasing business at steadily advancing prices, cotton goods sellers cannot begin to satisfy requests for prompt shipment, finished iron and steel show great activity and although there is some unrest in labor matters the industrial situation reveals few important flaws. Prices of cereals and cotton show some easing on better crop reports or increased movement, but taking staple prices as a whole, the level of values is at the highest point reached in midsummer for a period of fifteen years past. Farmers are busy on harvest work and retail trade is naturally quiet, but an increased number of fall buyers is noted in all leading markets.

PETER THE GREAT.

History Shows That the Old Ruler of Russia Was a Monster.

Years ago, when a low standard of morals prevailed, the epithet "Great" was bestowed upon any monarch who won battles and enlarged the territory and resources of his kingdom. It mattered little then to the historian what might be a king's private character, provided he made his nation formidable by its brute strength and full treasury. Even if he was a bad man they eulogized him as a good ruler. Peter I. of Russia is called Peter the Great because he transformed a barbarous into a semibarbarous nation. But no one can now read the following summary of his character without a feeling of disgust. Voltaire, in his "Philosophical Dictionary," says that "Peter was half hero and half tiger." Macaulay declares that "to the end of his life he lived in his palace like a hog in a sty, and when he was entertained by other sovereigns never failed to leave unequivocal proof that a savage had been there."

Peter, when the fit was on him, literally caned everybody—from his cook to his counselor, from the meanest peasant to the highest noble—sparing neither age nor sex. He would get up from the table and flog the host who was entertaining him. He would stand at the door of the senate house and flog each senator that went in. Lefort was an intimate and trusted friend, yet on slight provocation he was knocked down and brutally kicked by his imperial master. But all this flogging was in the way of recreation. When Peter "meant business," it was a more serious matter. Incredible as it may seem, it is nevertheless well authenticated that one of his own sisters—it is said more than one—received 100 strokes of the whip on her back in the presence of the whole court.

In 1713 Alexis, his only son who outlived infancy, was for some offense of no great seriousness several times tortured in the presence of the diabolical father and in the end died either from the effect of the torture or by assassination. For sympathizing with Alexis the Princess Golitsyn, the bosom companion of the Empress Catherine, was publicly whipped by soldiers. For the same reason the brother of his first wife, Eudoxia—whom he had thrown into prison—was tortured and then torn in pieces on the wheel. Nothing ever told of Nero is more horribly grotesque than this, yet this man, or monster rather, is paraded before the world as Peter the Great.

SUCCESS THOUGHTS.

The best in others will only come out to meet the best in you.

The man with an idea has ever changed the face of the world.

One reason why we do not make the most of the winning material in ourselves is because of a magnified idea of the great superiority of others who do things in the world.

As a rule no good comes from criticizing others. Anybody can do that, but the man who can accept his own honest estimate of himself and resolve to profit by it has achieved something.

No matter what you are doing, think your way. Don't go without thinking. Think everything out. Don't run without a schedule. Have a programme and go by it. Think! Think! Think!—Success.

Mr. Noble's Promise Given.

In the early stages of his ministry the Rev. Mr. Noble preached for some time in a village in Maine. One day a committee called upon him to settle with him for his services, and, after stammering awhile, signified to him that his further services were not desired.

"What does this mean, gentlemen?" asked the parson.

"Why," replied the spokesman, with some hesitation, "the people have got the impression that you are inclining to universal salvation."

"Gentlemen," answered Mr. Noble, "I never have preached that doctrine, but if I ever should I promise to make the people of this town an exception."—Boston Herald.

Women and Pins.

It seemed as if it would take a whole paper of pins to mend that torn dress. The wearer appealed to her car neighbor.

"Have you any pins?" she asked. The woman had none, but passed the query on, and in a little while every passenger was feeling along concealed edges and turning back lapels. At last sixteen pins were produced. Fourteen of them were contributed by men.

"We never need them as much as the women, but somehow we carry them and they don't," said one of the latter.—New York Post.

Early Railroad.

In the pioneer days of railroad building it was sometimes necessary for the freight conductor to run forward over the roofs of the cars to shout orders to the engineer. Traveling at night was generally avoided, though one road adopted the expedient of running ahead of the locomotive a flat car loaded with sand, on which a bonfire was kept burning as a headlight.

Seeing Double.

"You brute!" exclaimed Mrs. Lushley. "It makes my blood boil to see you come home in this condition." "M' dear," said Lushley, "you look beautiful when you're angry."

"Indeed?"

"Yes. Anyhow, you shert'n'ly look doubly beautiful to me just now."—Philadelphia Press.

HAD RECORDS CHANGED.

Teamsters' President Says He Did It to Prevent Indictments.

Philadelphia, Aug. 12.—The session Friday afternoon of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters was the stormiest in the history of the union. Physical violence was several times narrowly averted. Nothing was accomplished and the convention was adjourned for the day to permit the delegates to cool down. The disorder was the result of a motion made by G. W. Briggs to endorse the Chicago strike. As soon as the motion was made there was an uproar. Men in all parts of the hall began shouting and shook their fists at one another. A motion that the convention go into executive session was defeated and nearly precipitated a general fight.

President Shea then became the object of attack by delegates. They accused him of misconducting the strike and also made general charges of incompetency. President Shea took the floor and vigorously defended himself. He again told in detail the story of the strike. Someone inquired about the accuracy of some of the union's records, to which President made the following reply:

"I make this statement realizing the full force of what I say—realizing that my remarks may be brought against me in a court of justice. I deliberately state that I did recommend the changing of certain things on the records of the local unions of Chicago during and after the teamsters' strike because I thought that the alteration of the records would prevent some of our men being indicted."

A MEDIAEVAL NAVY.

The Queer Implements of Attack and Defense That Were Used.

Very strange to modern eyes would be the armament of Great Britain's mediaeval navy. The very names of many of the implements of attack and defense sound queer. According to the books, in the year 1337 the vessels of the navy were furnished with "springalds," ancient spring guns; "haubergeons," coats of mail; "bachnets," small helmets; bows, arrows, doublets, targets; "pavises," large shields placed at the sides and serving the double purpose of protection against the sea and against the enemy; lances and "firing barrels." As early as 1338 cannon formed part of the armament of ships, and about 1372 guns and gunpowder were commonly used. Among the stores belonging to one vessel of that time were three iron cannon with five chambers, a hand gun and three old stone bags, probably for shot. Another ship had an iron cannon with two chambers and one brass cannon with one chamber.

Among other implements of war used at that time were "cannon paviers" or stone shot throwers and "murderers," which were smaller and threw any kind of shot. There were also "basilisks," "port pieces," "stock fowlers," "sakers" and "bombards." The bombards were of hammered iron, made of bars welded and bound together with iron bands. They threw stone shot weighing between 140 pounds and 195 pounds. A battery of these erected on a slip of land at the naval battle of Chiochia (1380) between the Venetians and the Genoese did great damage. They were loaded overnight and were fired in the morning.

Froissart tells of a bombard used at one of these ancient sieges that "might be heard five leagues off in the daytime and ten at night. The report of it was so loud that it seemed as if all the devils in hell had broken loose." Brass ordnance was first cast in England in the year 1535. The pieces had various names. Many of different caliber were mounted on the same deck, which must have caused great confusion in action in finding for each its proper shot.

THE ESKIMO CANOE.

It Is a Curious Little Craft That Is Cranky, Yet Safe.

It is in Greenland that the hunting ability of the Eskimo reaches its highest development. He has a fine mechanical skill. Bones, ivory, stones, a little driftwood, skins and the sinew of the reindeer are the materials from which he must make his boat and weapons. There is nothing else. Says a Greenland traveler: "Of these the Eskimo builds a canoe, its frame of bones and driftwood, its covering of translucent sealskin sewed together with sinew. This kayak is decked over, except for a hole in the middle framed with a wooden ring. The Eskimo wriggles into this hole, his legs extended into the fore part of the boat.

"Round his waist there is a cylinder of sealskin, the lower edge of which draws over the wooden ring and is pulled tight with a thong, making all water tight to the armpits. For heavy weather the cylinder is part of a skin shirt with a hood. Strings tighten this hood to the face and cuffs to the wrists, while a pair of long sleeved mitts protect the hands and arms.

"So rigged a good man can turn his canoe bottom upward and right himself again with sliding strokes of his paddle, for he is as waterproof as a duck. Moreover, his vessel is so flexible that it is almost safe from being crushed in the ice drift and, being limber, is extremely swift when propelled by the double ended paddle.

"On the other hand, the vessel is so cranky that only about two-thirds of the native men have nerve and balance enough to hunt. Only three or four Danes in all Greenland have dared use a kayak."

Minnesota Railroad Commission Takes a Hand in Operators' Strike.

St. Paul, Aug. 12.—The state railroad and warehouse commission has taken a hand in the telegraphers' strike. A complaint has been filed with the commission by a resident on the Great Northern line, who alleged that sixty-two stations of that road are closed. The commission at once asked officials of the road to appear and show cause why these stations should not be opened. Similar orders have been issued to the Northern Pacific, against which another complaint has been lodged. The railroads are maintaining a strict silence regarding the strike and intimate that they do not wish to consider it further as a public matter.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
